GRAND OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED AT CLOSING SESSION OF PYTHIANS.

Knights and Visitors to the Number of Twenty Thousand Gather at Big Outing in Shady Grove.

RESOLUTIONS WERE ADOPTED

Thanking the Citizens, Burgess Solson, O. B. Purinton and the Press for the Entertainment of the Visitors During Their Stay in Town.

With the departure of more than two-thirds of the Knights of Pythias from Connellsville, the town this morning resumed its usual attitude. The town still maintains its decorations but the bunting and flags will soon come down.

The final meeting of the Knights of Pythias convention was held in the armory last night. Adjournment was made at 11.30 to meet next year at the same time at Wilkesbarre where the next convention will be held.

One of the ceremonies that marked the meeting last night was the presenting George W. Allen, retiring Grand Chancellor, with a beautiful and costly set of cut glass, including a water set, a cut glass lamp and other costly presents. In recognition of his faithful services during his term of office. Mr. Allen in thanking the delegates for the presents dwelt at length on the things that the order has done and what the future has in store for them.

Resolutions of appreciation were adopted expressing thanks to O. B. Purinton, who has been the moving spirit of the convention, the citizens of the town, Burgess Solson and the press.

Officers who were elected at the previous session and by the delegates in June, were installed as follows: Grand Chancellor, James E. Watkins, Scranton; Grand Vice Chancellor, James A. Steese, Holly Springs; Grand Prelate, Harry A. Thompson, Tyrone; Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, George Hawkins, Philadelphia; Grand Master of Excuses, Julius Montzner, Philadelphia; Grand Master of Arms, George H. Hoffman, Philadelphia; Grand Inner Guard, John W. Hutcheson, Butler; Grand Outer Guard, William R. Ford, Trustees were elected as follows: Treasurer, W. E. Kottz of Chambersburg.

It is estimated that over 2,000 people from Pittsburgh, Johnstown and other immediate vicinities were present at the fitting closing at Shady Grove park yesterday. From an early hour in the morning the crowds of excursionists began to pour into Connellsville from all near-by points. Nearly all went to Shady Grove in the afternoon and the park officials were taxed to their utmost in entertaining the crowd.

Some difficulty was encountered in feeding the people. Arrangements had been made between O. B. Purinton, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and the park officials that the latter should have sufficient food on the grounds for the crowd. Most of the Uniform Rank men left on West Penn cars for the park immediately after the parade, which terminated in New Haven after noon, expecting to find eating accommodations at the park. Owing to a misunderstanding, however, the food supply was limited and many of the Knights were forced to come back to Connellsville for their lunch.

Transportation accommodations also rather limited. Every car to Shady Grove was packed to the guards. The executive committee for the day understood that the fare for the bands should be free, but it was not so, and it took nearly $25 to get the musicians to the park.

Owing to the late arrival of most of the scheduled speakers, the oratory was called off and the entire afternoon given over to merry making. No dancing prizes were given. The pa-

Strangers Threw Pennies To Newsies on the Streets.

Two young jaspers yesterday afternoon had a whole lot of fun with the Connellsville newsboys, and caused a whole lot of trouble for the circulation managers of the papers by throwing pennies into the crowds of boys just as the papers were issued. They were real live sports and must have spent a dollar in that way.

The late scramble about along Main street in a frantic effort to get the pennies, and many a stocking and trousers was torn just the mending stage in the scuffle. A whole lot of big people engaged in the scramble, too, for some one said that there would be a $10 gold piece in the lot, but a newsboy got hold of such a treasure. One lad who always million was crowded all afternoon.

The 20,000 people who visited the park at various times during the day, came from Pittsburgh and all of its surrounding towns, Johnstown, Uniontown, Greensburg, Connellsville, Meyersdale, and Fairmont.

The closing session of the Pythian Sisters was held yesterday afternoon when the annual installation of officers took place. The installing officer was Past Grand Chief Mrs. Mary M. Stacham of Garfield Temple No. 42, Allentown. The exercises were witnessed by a large gathering of Pythian Sisters. The meeting adjourned at 5.30 o'clock. Many of the Sisters left for their homes last evening.

RECORDS FROM LICENSE COURT

Show Interesting Facts Concerning Ages of Brides and Grooms.

FOUR 15-YEAR OLD MAIDENS

Entered Wedlock in July and One in August—Average Marriage Age of Girls for August is 24 Years and of the Men 27 Years.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 21.—Although Fayette county has come to the front of late with several marriages in which the contracting parties were of tender age, the marriage license records show that the tendency on the part of Fayette counties is not to rush into the matrimonial whirl. Of the 71 licenses granted since the first of the month the average age of the bride has been 21 years, eight months, while the average age of the bridegroom climbs to 27 years. Out of a total of 108 couples in July the average age of the men was 27, as in August, but the average age of the women dropped to 22 years. Although there is a large foreign population in the county the marriage of girls of tender years is not common.

So far August the only marriage of a 15 year old girl was that of Josephine Maguire of Elm Grove, to O. Ruppel of the same place. Reports was 25 years old.

In July there were four 15 year old brides, two of them being Americans. They were Mary D. Maust of Dunbar, who married Thomas Provance, and Minnie P. Golden of Georges township, who married W. L. Luckey.

On the other hand there were numerous couples well advanced in years, the star pair being C. T. Schmitt of Pittsburgh, 62 years old, and Miss Catherine Hestington, Perryopolis, aged 61. One couple eloped here from Wilkesbarre and secured a license, the bridegroom being 45 and the bride 47. They were Jacob Thomas and Annie M. Koonse, 47. They asked that the news be withheld from the public for a few days.

Of the 71 licenses granted thus far in August there were 11 girls and three men whose ages ranged from 13 to 19 inclusive, 38 women and 35 men 20 to 24 years inclusive, 13 women and 22 men from 25 to 39 inclusive two women and four men from 40 to 49 inclusive and five brides and seven bridegrooms over 40. With very few exceptions the bridegrooms are older than the brides by several years.

PARTY OF COLLEGE PROFESSORS TRAMPING OVER ROUTE OF BRADDOCK'S EXPEDITION

Reached Connellsville Last Night and Gave Interesting Account of Research to Be Published in a Volume of History.

While the convention of the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters, of Pennsylvania, have been engrossing the attention of the people of the Young Valley during the week there came toiling over the Allegheny mountains a little army of learned men who have been gathering information of far greater import in its future influence, from an educational and historical standpoint, than could have been gathered from a town festing with bunting and lodge colors, or the pleasure of an outing at Shady Grove. The little army arrived in town, tired and weary last evening at 7 o'clock, and put up at the Arlington Hotel, where the genial proprietor, William Dull, immediately got busy to cater to the comforts of the toiling marchers. The party was made up of college professors and college students, men of thinking power who are not to be taken for legs to feed their brains, and incidentally to add something to the great store of knowledge concerning the memorable march of General Braddock, who passed through this region on his way to the fatal ambush on this side of Fort Duquesne away back in the pre-Revolutionary days, when the Young Valley was a solid block of forest trees, and when the only highway from the colonies in the East to the pioneers in the West was a trail almost as hard to follow as it was dangerous and arduous.

First in the party, there was John K. Lacombe of Amity, Pa., Assistant Professor in the chair of History and Political Science at Harvard University, whose mud-brown tramping uniform could not hide the intense zeal and earnestness he has in finding out things heretofore clouded by the incompleteness of historical data relating to the great expedition of the ill-fated and stubborn commander of the British regular troops, General Braddock. Then there were as his translators in the expedition Henry Temple, who holds the chair in History and Political Science in Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pa.; his son, John P. Temple, a student of this historical march, and a son of learning, Prof. Charles Francis Abbott of Somerville, in the English High School of Somerville, Mass. Prof. Claude S. Lacombe of the chair of Political Science and History in the State Normal School of Mt. Pleasant, Mich.; Edgar B. M. Block, Esq., of Washington and Jefferson College of Washington, Pa.; Ernest K. Welber, of Canonsburg, Pa. The latter is accompanying the party for the purpose of making fine photographs, his work in this line having attracted the attention of more people than those included in this group named.

Monday a week ago the party of college men left Cumberland, the object of their trip being to establish authentic information concerning the entire route taken by General Braddock and his army on their march against Fort Duquesne, and to get the exact location of the battle, the frequent uncertainty of this trouble which cannot be avoided in a journey of this nature, have put us in behind our original schedule. Our route has not been that of the National Park, except in a few sections of the route, because the Braddock Road was not followed in leaving out the park. But we found it not difficult to find the line of Braddock's march. The marks of it, the signs that undoubtedly establish a clear record from Cumberland to Connellsville, we discovered here, there, everywhere in some places, or course, the route is identical with that of the park, which we found in detail of the route. This is due not only to the fact that the park was so kind, but also to the fact that the route of the park was the only great highway from Philadelphia and the pioneers of the wilderness beyond the Alleghenies.

"Have you picked up any relics?" was asked from people along the route. The most important find was a wagon, the front end of the ammunition cart in Braddock's army. The wrought iron nails are still plainly to be seen in the tire, and there are other marks to identify this. Then we have of course made collections of Indian arrow heads, tomahawks and trappings of the army.

"I suppose you passed close by Keyser's Ridge, did Braddock use the route of the Pike at that point?" "No, we covered the great valley below the Pike thoroughly, but while Braddock crossed Keyser's Ridge, he did not go more than across the Pike near that point.

"Then you did not notice the bronze tablet on the Pike which at that point states that this is the highest elevation on the Pike between Cumberland and Wheeling?" "I wish we had seen it, but we did not." Prof. Lacombe then gave in detail some of the route which Braddock traversed. From Cumberland, crossing West, the party passed through or near, usually near, Frostburg, Md., Grantville, Md., Addison, Somersville, Pa., Somersville, Pa., Eastington, Pa., Uniontown, Pa., Mt. Braddock, then known as Gist's Plantation, and thence to New Haven. "I had unimpaired vision that Braddock did not come directly down the Fairmont branch to New Haven, but from directions given on leaving Gist's, according to old maps and data, we found the route leading to a point a half mile west of New Haven. From this point the route is probably deflected to Stewart's Crossing, but this part of the route we have of course left till tomorrow morning, when we will again take up the line of march. Our journey from Connellsville will take us towards Mt. Pleasant, which we will reach tomorrow evening. Our calculations are correct. As far west as Washington, D. C., especially the marks of the old national highway of the pioneers are very plain."

"How have you been treated along the way?" "Roxbury" echoed all the party in chorus. "People have entertained us in their homes in many places, we have been treated in many households, surveys have given us points here and there; county officials have helped us, and everybody has done all that a people could do to assist in the work."

The pictures taken along the route will number close to two hundred, and one hundred and twenty-five of these will be incorporated in half-tone illustrations for the volume on the Braddock Road.

The younger members of the party left at Connellsville, departing for their homes last night. The others will continue the march today towards Mt. Pleasant and Braddock's field, where the army was and where the French and Indians, and defeated.

ARMY MAN

IN TOWN.

Soldier of Fortune From Arizona on an Automobile Tour.

KNOW HAINS BROTHERS WELL.

Was Stationed at Fort Riley With the Officer Now Indicted in New York for the Murder of Editor Annis.

A slim and sustained young officer in the lagoon uniforms of a First Lieutenant, and driving a red Ford machine, attracted much attention on the streets yesterday in spite of the numbers of more brilliant decorated Knights. Stanley Hains Lewis, the gentleman in question, is a lieutenant in the Arizona "Rangers" or mounted border police, whose duties correspond with those of our State Constables. The Colonel's commission possessed by Mr. Lewis is in honor bestowed by President Diaz of Mexico. A slight defect of oversight caused by him and stigma of the American desert has given Lieutenant Lewis a year's probation, which he is enjoying in a motor car tour of the United States. New York last March. He is well known as a writer of military stories and poems for the Munsey publications, and has consequently a personal acquaintance with Jennings Hains, whose role of adventure in the State magazine was no more thrilling than his recent participation in the Annis Hains tragedy.

"I know both the Hains well," said Col. Lewis today. "I was at Fort Riley when Capt. Peter C. Hains was stationed there, and a more queer, unassuming man I never met. His brother, Thornton, is at Herndon, Va. The Captain is near-sighted and below medium height, and has been known to throw and Bohemian clothes as an all round 'good fellow.' I have no doubt that the Captain's mind was temporarily unbalanced by grief or insanity, and that he would eventually have been discharged on the ground of insanity. He was a very nice fellow, and I am sure he believed to be his brother whether investigated by Thornton or not."

Col. Lewis' career has been interesting. A Major of Cuban Insurgents in 1896, an officer of government troops in Venezuela, later in the Revolution of Mexico, wounded severely on various occasions, having a cross across the frontal bone from a Spanish bullet, and once or twice gashed by a Yaqui hatchet deflected half an inch from a death stroke.

The officer was the center today of an interested group of Brother Knights, he being a well known member of the Pythian body. He is heartily in favor of the prosecution of the United Army Bank with standard military equipment and as a reserve force, which is now under consideration in the State of New York.

Thieves Steal a Fine Motor Boat From Campers in Somerset County.

SOMERSET, Aug. 20.—By a clever bit of detective work a valuable chase was started yesterday morning. A Will of Somerset County was contacted in a motor boat, a portable motor boat owned by a party of Somerset young men, who were camping near Shamsville. Several persons residing near Shamsville were overcome by the lust of the eye and in the night they feloniously swiped the boat. The theft was not discovered until the next day. Constable W. H. was at once notified. He stated that he had heard of the theft. Forprints in sand a handkerchief which had been dropped by one of the thieves and several other clues enabled the sheriff's constable to recover the missing boat within two hours.

The boat was found in a barn about two miles from the camp. As the searching party approached the barn no sign of a boat was seen. Constable Will insisted that the boat must be secured in the barn and after an hour's search it was discovered in the thieves' lair. The identity of the thieves has known, the clever constable having followed a clue and brought to light all the details. It is likely that the prosecutions will follow. The boat was worth about $75. The party from whom it was stolen was composed of John K. Ernest S. and Roy Corroth, Frank Linnert, Joe W. Reed, J. B. Werner and F. A. Holbert.

REPORT WAS FALSE.

No Truth in the Rumor That Watchman James O'Donnell Had Been Murdered.

The report that some one had murdered James O'Donnell, Baltimore and Ohio night watchman last night, created considerable excitement about the city yesterday. The rumor was that the watchman had been murdered at 1.30 o'clock last night and the entire police force turned out to catch the murderer. When they arrived at the B. & O. depot they found O'Donnell well, strong and heartily listening to the Mockersport band playing of several sections.

Some one reported the occurrence to the Baltimore & Ohio shops and the clerks there notified the police. All of the night busy and quickly ran the rumor to earth.

TAFT TALKS TO THE "SOLID SOUTH."

Advises Southerners in First Speech of Campaign to Break Away.

BETTER FOR THE COUNTRY.

If this Democratic National Asset is Taken Away There Would be More Blessings Come to Southerners Who Have Already Prospered by Republican Rule.

United Press Telegram.
HOT SPRINGS, Va., Aug. 21.—William Howard Taft opened his campaign in the South today by speaking to the Republican party of Virginia and surrounding states this afternoon. The exercises took place in the baseball park and were begun by Congressman Stump and S. Allen Brown, United States Marshal of the Staunton district. The largest crowd of Republicans ever assembled in Virginia was present. The famous Stonehill Jackson band was present.

Congressman Stump uttered a loud wail over the fact that the railroad company had stopped selling tickets early this morning because of their inability to handle the immense crowds. Taft's speech in a large part was an appeal to the "Solid South" to break away from the Democratic column. After discussing the general issues he said: "Everyone having the interest of the country at heart would rejoice in having the 'Solid South' as a Democratic asset every national campaign broken up. It would be better for the States themselves and better for the country. The Republican party is not a sectional party, which fact that the South always supports the Democratic party would indicate. The Republican party has improved waterways. The building of the Panama canal has started a movement toward the conservation of water and lands, the conservation of forest and water resources and is taking many other steps for the development of the South. The growth and success of the mining and iron industries of the South is directly due to laws enacted by the Republican party.

"Leading Democrats of the South have complained that Southern men have little influence with the executive branch of the Washington government, the reason is that the South always has been considered by Democracy and especially by the Northern Democracy as a part of the country certain to support the Democratic ticket, and therefore when Republicans are in power it is not natural or to be expected that it should summon to its executive the leading man from opposing the party in the South. The only way by which the South can cure this manner is by independence in the action and support of the Republican ticket.

BALL TEAM

BREAKS UP.

Connellsville Sports Do Not Come Up With the Money to Pay Salaries; Situation a Gloomy One.

From the present indications the Connellsville, Pennsylvania and West Virginia League team has taken an aerial trip and is no more. The fifth day of grace that is allowed all National League agreement clubs was passed yesterday without the players receiving the salary due them, and they are now free to sign anywhere they please. It is thought probable that the players will do as they did last year, take over the franchise of the club and run the team themselves. All day yesterday the directors of the local club canvassed the town for subscriptions, but today there were not enough and a total of $400 is left in the salary list.

The plan of having the players take over the franchise is a good one and if the team can hold out until the last of the season some of the deficits can be made up by the $500 forfeit money in the hands of the league President. This idea was carried out last season and proved a success. It is now up to the players. They are at liberty to jump the team and their contracts are no longer binding. Johnny Yocum reports that he has a good offer with the Lancaster team of the Ohio State League and as all of the players are good men they will, in case nothing further is done, have an easy time getting jobs.

Despite what happens to the team, the remainder of the baseball season this week will be played off. The Cokers are scheduled for three more games at Charleroi, one of them a double-header, which will net $120.

SPECIAL OFFICER TO WATCH BILLYBOAT.

Police Committee Wants Joe Mervis to Keep His Wandering Bock Beer Sign Off Street.

Joe Mervis will have to keep his goat off the streets, if the police department has to employ another man to see that the live Bock Beer Sign dogs not wander about the town. Billy went up on the corner of Pittsburgh and Main streets yesterday evening about 8 o'clock and made an exhibition out of himself.

Catching the convention spirit, he walked about on two legs and went viciously for the crowds. There were many ladies assembled there, but he was no respecter of persons. This morning Councilman F. J. Kooser appeared at the police station and left word for the Chief of Police that if the regular police force could not subdue this goatish another officer would be especially employed to do so. As a public entertainer the goat has won some laurels, but he takes it in his head to go after all the ladies on the street, badly frightening them.

Constable William Roland of Dunbar township made the arrest. The case was settled by the defendant paying his fine and costs.

FOREST FIRES RAGE.

Threatening Vancouver and Residents Turn Out to Fight Them.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21.—(Special) Fire fighters in this city added by hundreds of volunteers are today battling with the forest fires which yesterday threatened Vancouver.

Flames have been turned away from the homes into a thousand acres of timber which will be a total loss. Reports this morning from the back country say that many fires are raging on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains and that the Caribou country loss will be great.

STATE OFFICIAL VISITS HOSPITAL.

Finds Things in Good Shape But Advocates Many Improvements at the County Jail.

Robert W. Herbert, Deputy Inspector of the State Board of Charities, paid the Connellsville hospital a visit yesterday afternoon, and after going over the building expressed himself as well pleased with conditions there. The hospital trustees have just completed a number of improvements looking to the better accommodation of patients, and although the visit was unexpected, the inspector found everything in excellent shape. Miss Catherine Zieser, the superintendent, was highly complimented upon the excellent conditions which the inspector was convinced were maintained at all times. Mr. Herbert inquired into the salaries of the various nurses and employees, after which he left for his home at Greensburg.

He came here from Uniontown, where he inspected the hospital, the County Home and the jail. He found conditions satisfactory at the hospital and the County Home, but at the jail he delivered some very explicit orders with a view to bettering conditions.

The jail facilities were not at all to his liking. The sanitary condition he felt was satisfactory, but the crowded condition of the jail was pronounced bad. He ordered the ventilating fan, which has not been running, to be started at once. The collar under the jail must be corrected, and a kitchen established for prisoners. Two shower baths were ordered installed. Looking up the law, he found that the capacity of the jail was 100 prisoners, and yesterday when he made his visit he found 142 prisoners confined there. Twelve of these are women.

Mr. Herbert recommends that after the collar is corrected quarters be established for the "trouble" and that the room on the third floor now occupied by them be partitioned off for 20 and 90 prisoners, thus making more cell room for prisoners with serious crimes lodged against them. He ordered more beds purchased at once for the accommodation of prisoners.

BODY WASHED ASHORE

Was That of Foreign Miner Who Fell Into Monongahela River.

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 21.—The body of John Georgik, a coal miner, was washed ashore this morning, after having been in the Monongahela river for several days. Upon first investigation the case thought that the man had been murdered, but he later learned that Georgik with another miner was seen taking coal from a barge near Diamond creek. The boat was seen to capsize and the two men were thrown into the river. One of the miners escaped to shore with the boat, but the other went down.

Bargains in Building Lots at South Connellsville.

You naturally ask WHY are they Bargains?

The reasons are simple and convincing.

1. They are Bargains because they are Cheap. There are no other lots so near to Connellsville that are as low in price as these lots are. Prices range from $300 down to $40. They have been made to suit the times. This is the time to get in on the Ground Floor.

2. There are no other lots better provided with the conveniences of living, which make real estate valuable, among them may be mentioned:

TROLLEY SERVICE. Only ten minutes from the center of Connellsville. Only one fare with exchange for the main line.

CITY WATER. The mains of the Connellsville Water Company are laid on the principal streets.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. The electric light service of Connellsville extends to South Connellsville.

NATURAL GAS. The mains of the Fayette County Gas Company traverse the principal thoroughfares of South Connellsville.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS. A new public school building is in course of construction in the heart of South Connellsville, convenient to all sections of the town.

Workingmen with a little capital laid by are not wise to pay Extravagant Rents when they can buy a lot in South Connellsville for a mere fraction of what they have to pay for lots in Connellsville proper and yet have the conveniences of the citizens of the town.

Only a short walk for B. & O. shop men.

TERMS: Ten per cent. down, and the balance to suit convenience of the purchaser.

HOLD UP IN BUTLER COUNTY.

Twenty Foreigners Armed With Revolvers Attack Small Party on Country Road in Attempt to Secure Sum of Money One Was Carrying.

Butler, Pa., August 21.—Armed with revolvers, twenty foreigners held up four men in a vehicle near Bredinville and had it not been for poor marks, the two of the party attacked would have been killed. Two who could not get away were terribly beaten, but a large sum of money which the foreigners evidently knew was being carried by one of the men, was not secured.

George J. Kummer, who had spent the day in Bredinville looking after his small estate, was returning to this city with a party of money which the foreigners evidently knew was being carried by one of the men, was not secured.

With drawn revolvers they demanded money. Conner escaped with a volley of bullets whistling past his head. Running to Lyndora he notified Constable Jesse Miller who hurried to the scene. George Kummer, who carried over $300 escaped under fire and secreted himself near a creek. Manox and Albert Kummer who were captured before they could leave the rig, were beaten and were found half-conscious in the road when Constable Miller and a deputy arrived.

The foreigners had disappeared but George Kummer says he recognized the leader of the gang and the capture of the latter is expected.

RETURNS TEN INDICTMENTS

Springfield Grand Jury Presents Findings Against Mob Leaders.

Springfield Ill., August 21.—Ten indictments against two of the alleged mob leaders have been returned by the special grand jury of Sangamon county. Six of these are against Abraham Raynor and four are against Kate Howard Raynor. Raynor is charged with murder four cases of malicious mischief and one of riot. The charges against Mrs. Howard are for malicious mischief and are identical with those against Raynor.

The charges against Raynor is based on his alleged participation in the lynching of William Donigan, a negro, forty years old who fell a victim to the mob's fury. Considerable evidence upon which this was voted was procured by a military court of inquiry.

"We procured enough evidence to indict forty or fifty participants in last week's rioting," said Colonel Chipperfield of the court of inquiry. "We have a complete confession from Raynor and we have also discovered convincing evidence of arson on the part of a former policeman of Springfield. The evidence is not only available for the grand jury but it is of such a character that convictions are almost bound to follow its presentation in court and will stand sponsor for that statement."

WOULD MARRY TEN-YEAR-OLD

Aged Clergyman Wants to Make Little Girl His Heiress.

Wilmet City Md., August 21.—A license has been issued for the marriage of the Rev. George S. Fitzhugh, age sixty-seven, to a ten-year-old girl. The proposed marriage has not yet taken place. Mr. Fitzhugh has suffered a severe attack of heart disease and is now said to be critically ill. Mr. Fitzhugh is understood to be an Episcopal clergyman of Virginia, of which state the little girl is also a native. When the license was secured a necessary letter of consent from the girl's mother was exhibited to the clerk. The explanation of the peculiar case is said to be that the Rev. Mr. Fitzhugh desires to make the little girl his heiress and that his object cannot be attained to his satisfaction by the adoption of the child.

No Hope for Entombed Miners.

Wigan, England, August 21.—It is believed that not a single man of the seventy miners who were entombed by an explosion in the Maypole coal mine have survived the disaster. The management of the mine declares that between sixty and seventy men were underground at the time of the explosion and that there is no hope that anyone will be brought out alive. The women and children, however, refuse to leave until the bodies of their dead are brought to the surface. Nothing else will convince them of the hopelessness of waiting.

PURE FOOD LAW IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Judge Martin Bell's Decision Favors Manufacturers.

Hollidaysburg Pa., August 21.—The Pennsylvania pure food law of 1907 has been declared unconstitutional in a decision rendered by Judge Martin Bell in the Blair county court. The court holds that the law violates article III of that instrument.

The case was argued by eminent attorneys in behalf of food manufacturers and by attorneys of the pure food commission, the object being to get the case before the superior court in time to have the law corrected at the next session of the legislature if found defective.

Judge Bell cites article III section 4 of the state constitution, which provides that "no law shall be revived, amended, or the provisions thereof extended or conferred by reference to its title only but so much thereof as is revived, amended, extended or conferred shall be re-enacted and published at length. The judge cites many authorities sustaining his opinion in the case.
